

ANN STREET SCHOOL

our millennium begins...

MARION A. BOLDEN STATE DISTRICT SUPERINTENDENT: Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2023 with funding from Newark Public Library

The 2001 Spartan

Ann Street School National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence Newark, New Jersery

Mr. Joseph N. Maccia, Principal

My congratulations to you the graduating class of 2001. You are on the threshold of a new beginning which contains a multitude of opportunities and perhaps an equal number of pitfalls. Rely on the keenness of your senses, the training of your parents and teachers, and your own good judgement. Remember that for every freedom there is an equivalent responsibility. Face these urgent responsibilities with dedication and determination.

Each positive achievement in your life strengthens your character. Your wisdom serves to increase self pride. Respect of self and others becomes obvious to all those with whom you communicate. Traveling through life with the proper values makes your attainment of projected goals inevitable.

So it is with pride, not sadness, that I bid farewell to the class of 2001 for I know your dedication to excellence and your commitment to principles of freedom with responsibility will serve you, your community and your nation. Good luck, and may each of you find the success you seek.

Sincerely, Joseph N. Maccia, Principal

Ann Street Goodbye

(1) We came here...now we're going, Schools are never quite the same, We'll miss you...dear old Ann Street, Don't feel bad you're not to blame,

Chorus:

So Ann Street good-bye And we'll try not to cry

All our mem'ries of you will live on We will be blue...'cause we're leaving you Soon our hearts will be leaving you behind. Linger a-while, and we'll go with a smile, Like a friend who just happens to call, For the last time, we will say good-bye

(2) We know now we must go, now, Though our hearts plead us to stay, High school is our to-mor-row, You belong to yes-ter-day...

Farewell Address

Now that our years at Ann Street have come to an end, we look back on many memories. We remember the people, the good, the bad times, and the many new experiences that all become a part of us. Many of these memories will be forgotten, but the lessons we have learned here will enable us to be someone who is always willing to give as well as receive.

There are many difficult years ahead of us, and they will not be easy. Life is full of disappointments and failures as well as good times and accomplishments. But, if we have perserverence and confidence in ourselves, we will be able to overcome any barrier that stands in the way of our success. Our years at Ann Street School have given us the ability to achieve this goal.

So, as we leave you, Ann Street, we say good-bye, with mixed emotions of happiness and sorrow. We thank you for sending us out into the world as better people.

Signals of Signals of Spring is a Nasa funded project which allows students to track the migration of animals using advanced technology and other resources. The main goal of the project is to learn what affects the migration of animals through four different areas. These areas are Species, Geography, Vegetation, and Weather. This year we tracked an Osprey and a Sandhill Crane. There were two groups of four different experts who tracked two different birds. These groups were called the Osprey Group and the Sandhill Crane Group.

The Species Experts for the project were Daniel Barroqueiro and Diane Castelo-Branco. Their job was to learn as much as possible about the birds. After gathering this information, they relayed it to their groups to help the other experts on Martins and Peter Brandao were the their quest to learning. Carlos they had to see how physical land features affected the birds' migration. All with doing this, they served as affected the birds' migration. Along cartographers and helped other members of with doing this, they served as of the country. The Vegetation Experts for the their groups to identify specific regions two groups were Alexei Yegorov and Fatima Matos. As Vegetation Experts, they analyzed the updated Vegetation Imagery and the most current Photoperiod and Temperature data to hypothesize the bird's further migratory pattern. As Weather Experts for the two groups, Jakub Wresilo and Mario Fuentes analyzed Surface Maps and Temperature Plots to see if the weather played a role in their birds' migration.

On Sunday, October 29, 2000 these students went to Mclean, Virginia to the CILT Conference. At this conference the students explained to NASA scientists what they did throughout the year, what they learned, and how they used technology to find these conclusions. A couple of months later, on Saturday, February 17, 2001, the students went to Essex, Connecticut to witness the annual Bald Eagle Festival. At the festival, the students explained the project once more. In addition to this, they went on the Essex River to find Bald Eagles. They were lucky enough to see many Bald Eagles and an elusive Golden Eagle.

Felicitaciones a Jasmany de Tus Padres y Hermanos

Megan

We watched you grow from a perfect little girl into a perfect young lady.
Keep walking the path you are on, keep smiling, keep being you, and you can't go wrong. We are proud of you and we love you.

Love, Nanny, Poppy, Aunt Amy CHRISTINA:

We watched you grow, taking on any challenge, overcoming all difficulties and being a part of a team.

Stay successful, use your P's

Love, your family Mom, Joe, Mary, Christopher and Maggie.

Good Luck to Our Godchild
Christina Burgess

with love,
Madrina and Padrino
Maria amd Mike Rendeiro

Our dear sister Christina, you are like a flower, we've watched you grow from a little seed to a big beautiful rose. You are kind, respectful and sweet. We wish you luck, success, and happiness for your future, and don't forget we're always there for you.

We Love You! Your sister Littlewoman Margaret, Mary, and Littleman Christopher. Congratulations Daniela

Best of luck in the future Mom, Dad, and Sergio

After five weeks of hand recounts, court appeals, concessions and retractions, Vice President Al Gore's final concession of the presidency to Texas Governor George W. Bush and his vice-presidential running mate Dick Cheney brought an end to one of the longest and most eventful elections in American history.

What happened? The Election at a Glance:

November 7 (Election Day): Shortly before 8 p.m. EST, the major television networks estimate Al Gore and vice-presidential running mate Joe Lieberman the winners.

With a too-closeto-call election throughout much of the nation, Florida becomes the key state in deciding the winner, as the next president will need Florida's 25 electoral votes to win.

November 8: At 2:15 a.m., results from Florida begin to suggest George Bush carries the battleground state. Gore concedes the election to Bush, thinking Bush has at least a 50,000 vote lead. Forty-five minutes later, Gore gets word Bush's lead has shrunk to only a few thousand votes, and retracts his concession.

Due to the closeness of the election, the focus turns to questionable ballots and fair voting practices.

In St. Louis, Mo., a controversy arises over a lower court's ruling to keep the polls open past the 7 p.m. deadline.

In Palm Beach County, Fla., an unexpectedly large number of votes for Reform Party candidate Pat Buchanan lead to questions about the legitimacy of the punch-card-style "butterfly ballot."

AP Photo/Victor Caivano

November 9: Gore's team requests a hand recount of ballots in four Florida counties, Palm Beach, Miami-Dade, Broward and Volusia.

November 16:
Bush's lawyers submit written arguments to the U.S. Federal Appeals Court to end recounts.

November 22-December 8: Hand recounts and legal battles continue, making the word "chad" (the small piece of paper punched out of the ballots) a household word.

December 9: The U.S. Supreme Court halts the manual recounts and sets a hearing for two days later.

December 13: In a public concession speech, Gore states he no longer wishes to prolong the election, and yields the presidency, making George

W. Bush the nation's 43rd president, and the first chief executive since Benjamin Harrison in 1888 to claim the office with the majority of electoral votes but a minority of the popular vote nationwide

Was Al Gore's appeal for a vote recount in Miami-Dade and Palm Beach counties justified or unjustified?

a six-year-old Cuban boy found off the coast of Florida, survived yet another ordeal: the brutal custody battle between relatives in Miami and his father in Cuba. The long struggle culminated in a late-night raid on a Miami home where armed U.S. agents seized Elian by force, putting him in the custody of his father who returned with Elian to Cuba.

In a stunning surprise move, Israeli announced his resignation. Barak's popularity had dropped during the ongoing conflict between Israelis and Palestinians. Barak stood for re-election, hoping for a vote of confidence from the Israeli People, but lost to Likud party leader Ariel Sharon.

Many thought peace between would never happen, but the past year saw warming relations between the two coun> tries, which are still technically at war. Images of North Korean leader Kim Jong II entertaining South Korea's Kim Dae-jung at a June peace summit in Pyong-yang were considered some of the most surprising news pictures of the year.
